Undergraduate Business Major

Use this document as reference material for scoring interview answers from candidates with an undergraduate business background. Upload via the HR Interview WebUI (RAG documents) before scoring sessions.

Question 1: Why did you choose an undergraduate business major?

Strong answer (A):

Names specific interests (e.g., strategy, finance, entrepreneurship), cites one concrete experience (course, internship, club), and connects the major to a clear career direction.

Weak answer (F):

Says only 'business pays well' or 'my parents wanted me to' with no personal motivation or examples.

Question 2: Describe a team project from a business course and your contribution.

Strong answer (A):

Uses STAR format: situation, task, your role, actions (analysis, coordination, presentation), and measurable outcome (grade, client feedback, deadline met).

Weak answer (D):

Describes the group vaguely ('we did a marketing project') without stating personal actions or results.

---

Question 3: How do you apply concepts from accounting or finance to real decisions?

Strong answer (B):

References a specific concept (e.g., break-even, cash flow, ROI) and a real example: student budget, small business case, or internship task.

Weak answer (F):

Cannot name a concept or gives only textbook definitions with no application.

Question 4: Tell me about a time you showed leadership as a business student.

Strong answer (A):

Led a defined initiative (case competition, club event, group assignment) with clear goals, how you motivated others, and what changed because of your leadership.

Weak answer (D):

Equates leadership with 'being the loudest' or 'doing everything alone' without collaboration or outcome.

---

Question 5: What is your understanding of business ethics? Give an example.

Strong answer (B):

Defines ethics in practical terms (transparency, fairness, compliance) and gives a relevant example: academic integrity, handling confidential data, or a case study dilemma with reasoned choice.

Weak answer (F):

Dismisses ethics ('everyone cuts corners') or cannot provide any example.

Undergraduate Business Major

Question 6: Where do you see yourself three years after graduation?

Strong answer (B):

Names 1-2 realistic paths (analyst, marketing associate, grad school) aligned with skills gained, and mentions steps already taken (internship, certifications, networking).

Weak answer (D):

Only says 'CEO' or 'rich' with no industry, role, or preparation plan.

---

Question 7: How do you handle conflicting priorities during busy semesters?

Strong answer (A):

Explains prioritization method (deadlines, impact, stakeholder expectations), gives a specific week with multiple deadlines, and what you sacrificed or delegated.

Weak answer (C):

Says 'I just work harder' with no structure, prioritization, or example.

---

Question 8: Why are you interested in this entry-level business role at our company?

Strong answer (A):

Links role requirements to coursework and experience, mentions company values or industry, and states what you will contribute in the first year.

Weak answer (D):

Generic praise ('great company') with no role fit, no research, and no link to business major skills.

---

Question 9: Describe a mistake you made in a business class or internship and what you learned.

Strong answer (A):

Admits a real error (data error, missed deadline, weak analysis), explains corrective action, and a habit or process changed afterward.

Weak answer (F):

Claims never making mistakes or blames others entirely.

---

Question 10: Which business specialization interests you most (e.g., marketing, finance, management) and why?

Strong answer (B):

Chooses one area with evidence: favorite courses, projects, mentors, or internship exposure; explains fit with strengths (analytical, creative, operational).

Weak answer (D):

Lists every specialization with no depth or says 'anything is fine.'
